Christina Brown wins fair aggregate

Another successful Elk Point Fair has become history, with last year's runner-up, Christina Brown, edging out six-time winner Norma Berg to win the 1994 Elk Point Fair Grand Aggregate award. Mrs. Brown accepted the C. J. Petroleums UFA plaque and a prize from Norcen Energy Resources for the win, which was tallied from her total points for entries in several sections of the fair.

The Grand Aggregate winner came close to needing a truck to haul home all her winnings, along with all her entries, after she accepted section aggregate awards in Knitting, Crochet and Weaving, sponsored by the Toronto Dominion Bank, the Seniors section, sponsored by Irene Magnusson, and Baking, sponsored by Elk Point Co-op.

In the Baking section, she edged out Lois Yaremkevich by a single point for the award.

Norma Berg, who placed second in the Grand Aggregate race, won an award from Pan Canadian Petroleums to add to her winnings in the Flowers section, sponsored by The Cutting Edge, Fresh Fruit, sponsored by Woody's Trophy and Gift Shop, and House Plants, sponsored by Sunshine Bus Lines and Pedersen Bus Lines.

Lois Yaremkevich won third place in the Grand Aggregate, accepting an award from Golden Loaf Bakery. She also took top honors in the Canning section, sponsored by Empress Restaurant and Lounge.

Winning was a family affair for Fair Board Chairperson Verona Lea Flanders and her children, Jennifer and Bret. Mrs. Flanders won the Arts, Crafts and Hobbies section, sponsored by Elk Point Insurance, while Jennifer won both Creative Writing, sponsored by the Elk Point Review, and the Junior Fair, sponsored by Wagon Wheel Ranch, and Bret won the Grains and Hay section, sponsored by Terry Wozniak Bulk Sales.

Expertise of many kinds was on display. Sharon Kuhn topped the Photography section, for an award from Home Town Grocers, while Michelle Anton won the Phil's Home Hardware award in the Vegetable section. Holly Astill was the overall winner in the Sewing section, with a prize from Capitol Drugs, while Amie Pedersen was the Junior Sewing winner, with a prize from RECREATION PARK GETS NO RESPECT - Like a well known comedian, Elk Point's Recreation Park just doesn't get any respect from some of its users. Despite signage outlining the rules for the campground and picnic area, one or more recent park user(s) decided to light a fire on the floor of the gazebo, using picnic tables for fuel, and another against the outside wall of the structure. Above, Public Works Superintendent Ron Fraess surveys the burn marks while a member of his crew pressure washes the smoke damaged interior.

Gazebo vandalized

Some of the visitors to the Elk Point Recreation Park during the August 5 to 7 weekend obviously failed to read the sign on the way in. Right up at the top it says "Please Use Respect," while further down it states "Fires in camp stoves only."

Rather than following these two regulations, the unidentified visitors chose to light a fire on the cement floor in the middle of the gazebo picnic shelter. They must have decided the ample provided firewood was too wet, also, because they chopped up one picnic table for fuel, and dragged in another to make the fire bigger. They also knocked out the 2" x 8" supports between the main pillars around the sides of the building, and charred a section of the north wall, apparently in an attempt to set the whole shelter on fire. In addition, shingles along the south edge of the roof were damaged in some way apparently unrelated to the fire.

Fortunately, the picnic tables and the gazebo itself must have been too damp to stay alight for long. Town of Elk Point Public Works employees found the mound of charred debris in the severely smoke damaged shelter when they went to mow the surrounding grass the following Monday. Tuesday was spent hauling away the remains and pressure-washing the surviving tables and the interior of the shelter.

Damage was estimated at somewhere between $500 and $1000 by Public Works Superintendent Ron Fraess, who noted that "the materials aren't that much, it's the labor involved" in the cleanup and repair of the facility.

Health authority approves representatives

The Lakeland Regional Health Authority, at its meeting in Smoky Lake on August 4, 1994 approved the employers' representatives to the Joint Resource Committee to administer the Work Force Adjustment strategy announced by the Minister of Labor, Stockwell Day on July 25, 1994.

As stated in Mr. Day's news release, health care workers in Alberta will soon have more support to help them adapt to changes in Alberta's Health system. The support will come from adjustment programmes designed and delivered at the Regional level. The programme funds will be administered at the Regional level. Joint Regional committees (Joint Resource Committee), made up of equal numbers of union and employer representatives in individual regions will decide how best to spend their allotted funds.

In Alberta Health's Business Plan, $15 million was dedicated to a three year work force adjustment strategy. Under the structure announced, this money will be divided among Alberta's 17 Regional Health Authorities; $6 million in years one and two, and $3 million in the final year.

The money will be used to: Help find new work for employees who have lost, or lose, their jobs; and help employees remain employed in related professions or trades.

All union and non-union health care workers whose jobs have been, or will be, significantly affected by health care restructuring will be eligible for this assistance. The programme covers workers affected since April 1, 1993.

Depending on individual regional circumstances, adjustment programmes may include: career counselling; skills upgrading; help with moving to a job opportunity; information on employment opportunities; job interview skills training.

The employer members of the Joint Resource Committee for the Lakeland Regional Health Authority are:

- Dean Bell, Trustee, Lakeland Regional Health Authority (Resident of Sherwood

Park)

- Ms. Pearl Babiuk, Director of Nursing, St. Joseph's Hospital, Vegreville

- Dr. Nick Bayliss, Medical Officer of Health, Leduc - t Strathecona Health Unit

- Donald Carley, President, Lakeland Regional Health Authority

- Wayne Flewelling, Administrator, Redwater Hospital

Ms. Barb Kaufman, Regional Technologist, Northeast Regional Shared Laboratory Services Programme

- Andre Remillard, Administrator, Lac La Biche.

Meetings of the Joint Resource Committee are yet to be set.

Elk Point child care services meets needs

As fall approaches, parents are beginning to look for child care arrangements for their children while they are at work or attending school. The Family Day Home Program in Elk Point, otherwise known as Elk Point Child Care Services, offers many attractive advantages for parents who need child care. The most important of these is often the individual attention that their child receives.

Home child care is provided by one adult working with a small group of children in the caregiver's family home. The number of children in these homes does not exceed six children under the age of eleven years at any one time of the day including the caregiver's own children. Of those six children - no more than three are under the age of 3. And of those three children under the age of 3 years, no more than two children are under the age of 2 years.

Another important advantage is that parents are given receipts for payment of their child care fees. At the end of the year, a letter is given to each parent listing their total amount paid for the year so they may use this with their income tax return.

Speaking of advantages, another one is that those parents who need financial assistance in paying for child care fees may apply for Government Subsidy when they use a Family Day Home with Elk Point Child Care Services.

If you are a parent who is looking for child care arrangements and would like to inquire about the possibility of placing your child or children with one of our caregivers, feel free to call Deanna Easthope, Coordinator, at 724-3933 or leave a message at 724-3800.

CBC Newsworld coming to local cable

CBC Newsworld, Canada's only 24-hour news and information network, will be available to Elk Point cable television subscribers by September 1. A spokesperson from A-1 Cablesystems reports that the new service will be broadcast on Channel 15. Another new addition will be The Learning Channel, on Channel 14.

CBC Newsworld will give viewers around-the-clock access to national and international news reports on the hour, with a comprehensive view of the world from a Canadian perspective, including live coverage of breaking news stories, in-depth current affairs and information programming, open-line phone in shows and documentaries.

However, with the increase in service comes an increase in cost of $2.50 per month, to a total of $28.50 per month. Most of the increase will go to upgrading and maintenance, with a small amount going toward the cost of the new channels.

Our Past

By Steve Andrishak

Main Street, Elk Point 1948

Great - and great potential

As usual, Elk Point's 1994 Fair was a great success -- tables groaning beneath displays of canning, vegetables and flowers, a veritable forest of house plants, a profusion of crafts of all kinds, and a delightful array of artwork and creations by the community's youngsters.

There was an heirloom quilt created in the 1940s, and another, representing more than 300 hours of painstaking hand stitching, which will be a heirloom for generations to come. There was an eyecatching woodcraft moose, a charming knitted bunny, a giant tophatted leprechaun. The biggest and juiciest strawberries in town, a trio of gigantic dinnerplate dahlias and surprisingly enormous pumpkins all made an appearance.

If some of the sections were a bit thin on entries, you can bet that they will be right back again next year with even more. Those who thought about entering but didn't were heard to remark, "I could do that. Next year I'll enter..."

Elk Point has a longstanding tradition of presenting one of the best bench shows in north-east Alberta. Compared to ours, some of the others just aren't very impressive. Sure, they may offer more in the way of additional features, but our bench show is the BEST!

Some people have asked why we don't have parades, horse pulls, gymkhanas, pancake breakfasts and so on with our fair. It's just that we have already "been there - did that" this year - our rodeo and Canada Day have taken care of the community's need for those activities. However, that doesn't mean we couldn't add on to our fair agenda here and there, and possibly someday we will.

In past years, the fair included a cattle show, a horse show, kiddies' games, displays and demonstrations, and even (back in 1978, maybe) a farmers' market and a gymkhana. All of these added to the fair, but took a lot of volunteer hours to put on. There being just so many volunteers in this community, it's hard for them to be several places at once. Therefore, events (and their volunteers) have to be spread out over the summer. It's more fun that way, too.

In the meantime, we do our best to continue the tradition of hosting an outstanding fair, with a great crew of volunteers offering their time and expertise to make it that way. And in the future? The sky's the limit!

Van Arnam Insurance Agency, Joe Mah Confectionery and residence, Hayward Lumber Co., Imperial Lumber Co., Kovach's Woodworking Shop and Habiak's Massey Harris agency (not visible). Fischer General Store, Dan Windiuk's Shoe Shop, Cafe, Yacyna's Secondhand Store, Neil Fenton Confectionery Store, Pioneer Hotel, Elk Point Library, Dominion Bank, Ron Barwick's Clothing Store, Paul Stepa Pool Hall and Barber Shop, Davis 5 Cents to $1 Store, Tredger's Drug Store. Tourist Information Clerk

...And speaking of misunderstandings, we would like to tell you a story of classic misdirection. But first we want to make it clear that neither we, nor any of our Tourist Information Centre Clerks (TICC) were personally involved in these events which came about through an injudicious mix of a difficult place to give directions to... like, say, Spring Park... and a TIC clerk who is somewhat shaky on the difference between east and west and left and right.

One day a tourist came into a TIC and asked if they were familiar with a certain area which we shall call Spring Park.

"Of course," replied the TICC confidently. "I know it like I know the back of my head." and she went on to explain how the road was filled with twists and turns and lakes and valleys and dead ends. They hunkered down over a county map while the tourist took careful notes and the TICC explained, "Go one mile north and turn west... east, to your left... right and go about four miles around the tip of a lake and grab a right... no, left, no, right, and go about a mile then turn right again and just follow the road and you'll get there."

Sure enough, in about half an hour one very irate tourist arrived back at the TIC. "I followed your directions carefully and they brought me back to town."

"Oops," thought the TICC. "Well," she explained quickly, "I said it was complicated, but now that I know you follow directions so well, I can be sure we won't be wasting your time or mine if I give you the correct instructions."

And let us reiterate that no one we know was in any way personally involved in the preceding events. Nor do we make any claim to the truth or accuracy of the story as it is told.

Magic show a big hit with the kids

Michele Duczek
Librarian

On Friday, August 5, 98 people, including over 60 children, met at the Seniors Recreation Centre for a performance by magician David Powers from Edmonton. The performance was organized through the Northern Lights Library System as part of the Reading Rodeo Summer Reading Program.

Mr. Powers began the show by announcing to the children that they were expected to pay him for the performance. He then proceeded to pull coins from the ears of several in the audience. He went on to amuse and amaze the audience with an entertaining patter and a suitcase full of tricks.

Audience participation was the order of the day as Powers called up several people from the audience (including one unsuspecting mom) to assist him with his sleight-of-hand. He ended the show by allowing everyone in the audience to pet his dove which he appeared to pull out of the hair of an audience member. A quick poll after the show assured me that a good time was had by all.

LIBRARY CALENDAR
Tuesdays and Fridays
throughout July and August:
The Reading Rodeo is on Tuesdays at 10 a.m. for older kids and Fridays at 10 a.m.

NEW ARRIVALS

A few more paperback donations have made their way to the New Books shelf:

The Golden Barbarian by Iris Johansen is a historical romance from an author who has made a career out of doing unusual things with a familiar genre. In this outing, a princess flees an oppressive life by striking a deal with a ruthless ruler of a neighboring land.

Promise Me Heaven by Katherine Kincaid brings together a woman fleeing Zeus (yes, Zeus, the Greek god) and a reporter looking for the Apache renegade Geronimo. They meet on a ledge in the desert in Arizona Territory in 1885 during a fierce storm and fall in love. But Zeus is still after her.

Pillars of Fire by Steve Shagan is a thriller involving the threat of nuclear holocaust. A CIA operative must find a secret missile site in Libya run by former Nazis before they take delivery of a nuclear device.

The Panama Canal officially opened for business 80 years ago on August 15, 1914.

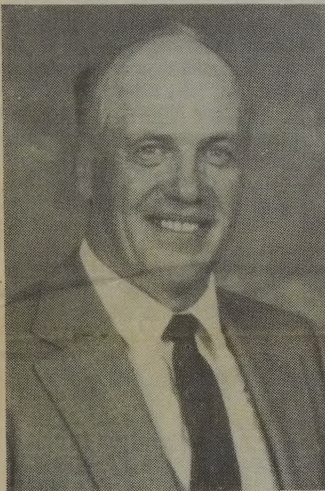

Help welcome the Hartleys

Elk Point United Church is very pleased to extend an invitation to everyone in Elk Point and surrounding area to help welcome Reverend Norman and Mrs. Jill Hartley.

The Church Board is hosting a potluck supper to be held Sunday, August 28 at 6 p.m. in United Church Hall.

You are invited to come with your family and friends to meet the new minister and his wife and to help show them a warm, western welcome to our community.

NORMAN AND JILL HARTLEY - Soon to arrive in Elk Point.

Thank You

I would like to thank my dear uncles, Peter and Steve, and cousins, Patsy and Carole, for organizing and hosting the first ever Andrishak Family Reunion held in Elk Point the July 16 weekend. Through their generosity and kindness I have been reacquainted with my relatives, many I hadn't seen for years and others I met for the first time. Also thanks to our friends that attended, you all helped make it a wonderful event.

With Love & Gratitude
Ruth

Three sections enjoyed a sizeable increase in entries, with Canning almost doubling from 102 to 203 entries and Creative Writing going from 12 entries to 24, while Knitting, Crochet and Weaving also displaying a bounty of entries. Grains and Hay had an increase in both entrants and exhibits. On the other hand, entries in Arts, Crafts and Hobbies, Photography and Fresh Fruit declined from last year.
